RARE OFFERINGS AT REMOVAL SALE

E. Maharam, the Central avenue merchant, has marked the completion of a handsome new addition to his store with the inauguration of a removal sale which is attracting much attention. The offerings are not old stock, but new and seasonable goods of the best quality. The prices are of the genuine sacrifice variety and are appealing strongly to all who appreciate exceptional values. The sale prices have been applied to shirts, undershirts, hoseery and underwear, waistcoats and men's suits, trousers and furnishings.

SCRAPPERS ARE FINED IN POLICE COURT TODAY

S. J. "Doc" Wilson and Fred Burr were in the toils of police court this morning charged with being principals in a three-round fight encounter indulged in at many saloons in the city yesterday afternoon. So insatiable animosity seemed to exist between the men and they called each other worse than that every time they met at the bar.

Both, after a quiet night in the jail, assented to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He gleamed with pride upon the job he had done with Wilson's face, and cheerfully paid a fine of $10 and costs of $15.

THE MEN KNOW GOOD VALUES, TOO

That the big department store idea has caught the popular fancy in Albuquerque is attested by the wide range of appeal made by the announcement of the "Clear the Deck" sale now in progress at Rosenwald's. The harshest offered are attracting not only the women, who are admitted the most thrifty buyers, but also men and boys of the city. Incidentally, it is interesting to note that the announcement of this unique sale marked the first anniversary of the advent here of F. H. Broadhead, the efficient Rosenwald advertising man.
